Q: Is it normal for a crypto creator to reveal the private key?

A: No, it's rare. Revealing the private key means the creator gives up all control, ensuring transparency and decentralization.

Q: Why would a creator do this?

A: To build trust by showing the project is fully community-driven with no central authority.

Features

- No admin or Owner involved – Ownership renounced
- No Operator or centralized control involved
- Non Mintable, Non Burnable and non upgradable
- Any time swap possible on Pancakeswap (Dex)
- While swapping no restriction or extra slippage tolerance applied
- Non hackable – temper proof smart contract above features are guarantee of Public Security, Transparency, Decentralization and Community-Governance future.

Innovative mechanism (USP)

- Purchase Protection:
  - BOT cannot be purchased by individuals, crypto whales, or large investors.
  - This ensures that no single entity can dominate the token supply or manipulate the market. BOT promoting fairness.
- Earn BOT by Providing Liquidity:
  - Users can generate BitOne Tokens (BOT) by providing liquidity (License purchase) to the BitOne contract.
  - This incentivizes active participation and contributes to the growth of the ecosystem.
